I didn't care for any of these but picked design 3 as it looks like water, trees and raven.

Put bike racks with it.

Love them all. It was hard to choose.

I like the simplicity of design, multi functional use and comfortable seating. Tree and raven have very indigenous look. Your origami boat seat is delightful. Good seat height for all ages.

They are all beautiful. I love flowers, so design 2 caught my eye. :-)
My second choice is design 3 as it is closer to the color of a raven.

Love the idea of the train. Riding a train is a relaxing and peaceful way to travel and observe nature. Trains are also more environmentally friendly

I liked the addition of the bike rack/rings in the first design; would be nice to have it adapted to whatever design is chosen.

Design 4 works if the red piece is kept the same as the rest of the designs with the tree instead of the shape presented

I like the origami boat ideas - I am just genuinely confused looking at the design as to where the seat actually is? I wish I had the ability to zoom in on the picture - is there a bench seat inside the "boat"? I am thinking about practicality for those who may be larger framed (how will people squeeze around the bike rack) or elderly if there are no seats per se and they are expected to sit on the ground of the boat. I don't know if the pictures are doing the design justice. For those reason I chose the more traditional bench, but would change my vote if I understood the function of the other benches.

Waste of funds.

It wasn't clear to me where the bench seating was in Designs 1 to 3. I found Design 4 to be humorous with lots of metaphors.
